

WEDNESDAY EVENING JAN. 2, 1895.

THERE IS great talk now among democrats about the necessity for "getting together." But how can they get together when the President they strained their heart strings to elect sits like the vailed prophet to all except a few of the men he has created, and away from him, insisting upon having dred thousand dollars, without amendkeeps the real leaders of the party his own uninformed way in everything, ment, and to urge its adoption at the and speaking of the action of the democratic majority in Congress as perfidious and dishonorable? It is impossible for a party to get together when its leader is possessed of the vain idea that he is better than all the rest of his party, though he has led it to overwhelming defeat.

THE GOVERNMENT of Russia, as is well known, is by no means favorably disposed toward Turkey, but a reliable dispatch from St. Petersburg says it is considered, in official circles there, that the alleged Turkish atrocities in Armenia "are greatly exaggerated, and that the Armenians themselves provoked the trouble by refusing to pay taxes, thereby placing themselves in the position of rebels." But, notwithstanling this, President Cleveland, at the instance of the jingoes of this country, insisted upon taking the part of the Armenians against the government of which they are subjects.

Congress will reassemble to-morrow, after its Christmas recess. The outlook for the democrats in it is not hopeful. With an excess of expenditures over receipts for the last six months of thirty million, an increase in the public debt of a hundred million. with a shortage of twenty million in the legal amount of the gold reserve, and at odds with the President, their condition is by no means a happy one. But, as the people who elected them would have it so, those same people must stand the consequences.

MR. BOURKE COCKRAN told the Virginia delegation to the Chicago corvention that Mr. Cleveland was a great on two of such days; but even his few life and character, will not say he is great on any other occasion.

braska, has served his party well and reflected credit upon it. But good and efficient service, where suffrage is unrestricted, can not stand against moneyed corporations, and so he has been turned down, and his place been given to another member of his party. Possibly he is not now as firm a believer in the demagogic cry of vox; populi, voz Dei! as he used to be.

LAST WEEK a man was arrested for theft in New York on the charge of a woman who, by burning a taper, some red hair and a few feathers, had seen his image in the smoke. On Monday eight men were sent to jail there for working on the preceding Sunday, in order to buy some meat and bread for their families. Why, the founders of the Christian religion garnered wheat on the Sabbath because "they were hungered."

FROM WASHINGTON. [Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. Civil Service Commissioner Theodore Roosevelt, who was offered the street cleaning commissionership of the city of New York by Mayor Strong and de clined, said to-day that his reason for not accepting the position was that he desired to continue his present duties, especially on account of the many changes now being made in depart mental affairs which placed more of-fices under the classified service. J. M. Langston, the colored ex-Congreseman from the Petersburg district, said to-day that he had engaged the legal services of Mr. McKenney, of Petersburg, and on one occassion, found that gentlemen very efficient, and he supposed, therefore, that he would be able to show that he had been fairly and legally elected, and that a candidate so elected, if fit for a seat establish his claim. He, Langston, had done so, though opposed by all the democrats in his district, some promi-nent republicaus, a few "niggers," Fred.

Douglas and Major Perry Carson. The conspicious non-appearance of democratic congressmen at the White House yesterday is the source of some comment here to-day, though it is not at all surprising as the President is by them, especially those who hail from Lighter Vein.

office to put it into active operation. The Texas boundary case, in which Mr. Edgar Allen of Richmond, is the government's counsel, has been postponed in the U.S. Supreme Court until next March. Mr. Allen is also counsel or Mr. Borland, of Norfolk, who is contesting the seat in the House to which Mr. Tyler was re elected, and says he will be able to show that his client is entitled to it. A Norfolk exrepu'dican here to day, when told of what Mr. Allen said, remarked that that gentleman's hope was father to his thought, and that, smart as he is, it would be impossible for him to prove that Mr. Borland was elected.

Ex-Senator Henderson of Missouri, A. T. Holtzman of this city, George W. Mankin of Falls Church, and Colonel J. E. Sickels and Messrs. J. E. Clements, Frank Hume, George Kearney and J. F. Haney of Alexandria county met in the room of the House commerce committee this morning and alked about the bill for the proposed memorial bridge across the Potomac at Arlington. They agreed to support the bili referred to, which provides next meeting of the committee. With one hundred thousand to commence wi h they thought such progress could be made that the next Congress would readily appropriate the necessary remainder.

Mr. Butler, of North Carolina, who is confident that he will fill Senator Ramsom's chair in the next Senate, has gone home. He says there is nothing in the talk about the democrats and republicans uniting in his State and sending two republicans to the U. S. Work on the Washington and Falls Church electric railway is still progressing on that part of the route that lies between the Aqueduct bridge and Ar lington.

An ex-republican Congressman from the South here to-day, talking about a newspaper paragraph to the effect that the republicans would nominate a Southern man for the next Vice-Presidency, said it was all a fudge, and that there was only one Southern man big enough for the place—Associate Justice Harlan, of the U. HELD UP OVER A HOT STOVE .- A dispatch from Decatur, Ill., says : One of the most atrocious robberies ever recorded in this county took place week ago Sunday evening, the facts of which came to light yesterday. Just east of the city lives an old man named Wm. Florey, who owns eighty acres of fine land. He had always lived by himself, and it was generally known in the neighborhood that he had money. On the night of December 20 he wa visited by three masked men. They knocked at the door, and knowing the old man was inclined to spiritualism told him that they were there to organize a circle. He opened the door, and the three men broke into the room Old Florey started for a gun, but he was knocked down with a cudgel and his hands bound. The robbers then locked the door and demanded the old man's money, which he refused. About midnight the robbers built a fire in the cook stove, and held Florey's hands on top until he told where to find $500. Then, to make him tell where to find more, they forced him to sit on the stove. They tortured the old man from eleven to four o'clock, and when they left they carried $1,309 with them, o which $1,020 was in gold. Old Flores did not tell of the affair until Tuesday His relatives got the story from him and employed detectives to work up th case. The land he owns is surrounded by town lots.

ALARM CLOCK FOR LOVERS .- A young man stood in the portico of an apartment house in Washington Park, Brooklyn, the other evening, and on the step above him stood a pretty girl. It was late, says the New York Sun, and the street was deserted. Despite the darkness it was apparent to the occasional passerby that the young had the daintily-gloved man hand of the young woman within his own, while his left rested over it like a cover to keep it guarded. The young man was apparently trying to say good night and the young woman evidently could not hear him, for she was bend. ing her head close to his. MERRY MINE MULES .- Six mules that had for four years hauled cars in he lower workings of the Spailand coal shaft near Lacon, Ill., were brought to light recently. In all that time the mules had seen no light stronger than the flicker of the Davy lamps the min ers carried. The sun was in its zenith when they reached the surface. The astonished mules closed their eyes to shot out the flood of light, and kept them closed while they were led to the pasture lot, a mile distant, and turned oose. There they stood trembling, as f afraid something evil was about to befall them. Presently they half opened their eyes and peered around in amazement. When they had become accustomed to the sunlight they eleva-ted their heads. Toward sundown they broke into a chorus of joyful brays. Af er a quarter of an hour of that music they took to kicking, jumping, whiriing around like teetotums and rolling on the sod as if they had gone mad. THRASHED HER HUSBAND .- Jacob Craig, jr., a wealthy old butcher of Pittsburg, Pa., was cowhided about 3 o'clock Saturday morning at his stand in the Diamond Market by his wife, a beautiful woman, who was an actress when he married her, two years ago. Another woman is mixed up in the case, and a divorce suit was threatenel, but it is said that the couple have kissed and made up. The Craigs live in a luxurious cottage at Bellefield. Friday they quarreled. Mrs. Craig bad gone to her husband's stand and demanded money which she claimed he had taken from her. She was persuaded to go home, where, it is alleged, she was assaulted by her husband.

At three o'clock Saturday morning she returned to the stall in the market, and made another demand for her money. This was refused, and it is said her husband pushed her out of the building. A moment later she came back, and, taking a small whip from her dress, with a blow wrapped the lash around her husband's neck. He clutched at the whip, but missed it, and received another blow. Then a bystander interfered and prevented ed her cruelly. She consulted an attorney and it is believed the trouble will be settled.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvellous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Juuction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in its results." Trial bottles free at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

New York, Jan. 2 -11 a. m - Speculition at the Stock Exchange was weakened af-ter the opening and prices declined ½ to 1½, per cent. The market was adversely in-fluenced by the engagement of $2,200,000 gold for shipment to Europe to-morrow. There was very little pressure to sell in the railway list. At 11 o clock the market was steadier in tone but trading was light.
